

Dede Christopher received a Bachelors degree of Architecture from Clemson University in 1984 and a Masters of Architecture degree from the University of Tennessee in 1996 where she focused on architecture and urban design. Throughout her career Dede has worked as a designer, intern architect, and architectural illustrator in several prominent architectural firms. In 1989 she established her firm, Christopher Illustration. Her company has served many clients throughout the United States and abroad, and her work has been published in numerous periodicals, books and educational texts. Christopher Illustration continues to strive for excellence in all areas of architecture, urban design, architectural illustration, and the charrette design process. Dede serves on the Public Building Authority and Board of Zoning Appeals in Maryville, TN, and has been a member of the Congress of the New Urbanism since 2002.
